INCOMPLETE OIL CHANGES

- A lot of people assume that all you need for an oil change is one gallon of oil and a filter.
- It has become a misconception because of the way oil change is typically depicted.
- The big gallon of oil is 5 quarts. While this may be enough for some cars, there are many cars that require more than 5 quarts. Some require almost 10 quarts.
- To avoid starving your engine of oil, please check your manual to make sure you're using that correct quantity.
